NUMBER 16

CONGRESSMAN

Joseph Hefflin, Brilliant Alabamian, Speaks to a Large and Interested Crowd Here.

Congressman Joseph Hefflin as per previous announcements in the Record-Press reached here Monday morning on the 8 o'clock train and was met by the Sturgis band and a large crowd of enthusiastic voters who had looked forward to his coming with much interest.

Promptly at 1 o'clock he was escorted to the Opera House and introduced by Judge John W. Blue to an audience of 7 or 8 hundred, who listened attentively to his captivating speech which was conceded to be one of the best ever heard in Marion.

He made a strong plea for Olie James, Gov. McCreary and the state ticket, because, he said, they and their platform deserve support and because of the effect a democratic victory in Kentucky would have in next year's national campaign.

Congressman Hefflin was entertained by Hon. L. H. James and family while in the city. He left Tuesday at noon for Princeton where he spoke that afternoon.

Revival meeting at First Presbyterian church conducted by the pastor, Rev. Henry V. Escott, will commence next Sunday Oct. 15th and continue every evening at 7 o'clock.

Ed Slayden was given an examining trial Tuesday being charged with breaking open a case of beer at the I. C. station and extracting four bottles of beer therefrom. He was held by Judge Blue to await the action of the grand jury and was sent to jail in default of bail. He was released later as county attorney Moore ruled that he was being held on the wrong charge. The matter is now left with the grand jury.

On Tuesday the delegates appointed from Crittenden and Livingston met in convention at the Court House and nominated Hon. Albert Butler former representative of Crittenden and Livingston and a farmer well and favorably known to all of us. Mr. Pogue and his friends will need to do some hustling if he wins over such a man as Albert Butler, for while we do not agree politically he is as good and true a man as either county affords and made a good representative while there.

NOTED EX-MARIONITE

Judge Chester C. Cole, Now of Iowa, Writes an Interesting Letter This Week.

A great many of the older citizens remember, and all of their descendants have heard of, Chester C. Cole, who practiced law at this bar for about ten years before the war.

When he left here for Des Moines, Iowa, he was the leader of the bar, and with a reputation throughout the state as a young lawyer of great ability. Since leaving here his home has been Des Moines, Iowa, and he is now in his 87th year, and his career has been one of remarkable success. From 1864 to '76 he was Judge and chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Iowa, and during the same years was Prof. of Law at the Iowa State University, and since 1875 he has been Dean of the Law Department of Drake University.

The following quotations from a recent letter of Judge Cole will be of interest, and the names he refers to constitute an honor roll of Crittenden County's old Citizenship: "I have always cherished pleasant memories of Marion and its citizens, and the retrospect of my career there has afforded me much satisfaction. It was indeed a training school which often put me to a test of will power and persistence in meeting the professional obstacles which were placed in my way. I have in a measure attributed my success here to the test and trials which I met there. I frequently recalled in my retrospects, pleasant memories of Dr. Gilliam's family, Dr. Johnsons, Jack Woods, the Nunns, the Bighams, the Walkers, the Wilsons, Marble and family, Dick Stuart and family, Sink Hodge, the Rochesters, the Carnahan's, the Elders, John Blue and family, the Hills, Wagars, McKinneys, Headly, Armstrong, McClosby, Deans, Anthony Hodge and numerous others. I sincerely wish you to remember me to any of the survivors or families of those named and others who remember me.

I am now past my 87th birthday and have retained my physical and mental powers to a remarkable degree. I am now frequently called upon to make addresses to assemblies gathered for various purposes."

Henderson-Ballinger.

Quite a romance culminated last Friday when Miss Minnie Ballinger, a most attractive young lady of the Post Oak section, and Joseph Henderson, of Owensboro, Ky., eloped and were married in Evansville, Ind., on Saturday. The lovers had known each other some time, and the vows they had made were not forgotten.

Mr. Henderson is a brother of Mrs. Edgar Howerton, and made his home there for several months last year.

The bride was an orphan, who was reared and educated by Mrs. Laura Howerton, with whom she made her home, and is an attractive girl, of whom Mr. Henderson may well feel proud. They will make their home in Owensboro where the groom now resides and has a lucrative position.

The Record-Press joins their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

A 'Possum Hunt.

Chas. B. Hina—the jovial purveyor to the people, gave to his Sunday School class and a few invited guests the treat of their lives last Friday night and one they will never forget, it being nothing less than an old fashioned possum hunt. The march and the yell was most enjoyable but when a real live "possum" was "treed" the exuberance of the boys knew no bounds and they each one laughed so loud that neighbors thought it was Jack Tabor. One of the amusing incidents was when Bassett Newcom who had gone along to do the climbing, turned loose all holts and came down out of the tree, when he got close to the possum which was so big he concluded it was a coon. Bassett had had one meeting with a coon and came out second best and he did not care to repeat the experience and hence quietly retreated posthaste. His lordship was finally got to earth and killed. Elzie Vick agreed to skin him for his meat and sell the hide and turn the proceeds into the S. S. treasury. Those who enjoyed the hunt were:—Ivan Hina, Weldon Hina, Edward and Shelby Haywood, Eliza Vick, Chas. Stewart, Thos. Holloman, and brother, Hubert Crider, Ernest Minner, Bassett and Clarence Newcom, Nesbit Fowler, Wilson Woods, Gene Paris, Densel Paris, Gledford Rankin.

PROMOTERS

Of The Interurban Railway Were Here Last Friday Afternoon.

Last Friday afternoon at one o'clock, E. L. Wheaton, of the American Traction Co., of Indianapolis, Ind.; Maj. W. A. Calhoun, a former U. S. Government Civil engineer, and Robt. Scott, of Paducah, the local attorney of the Kentucky southwestern traction and interurban line, were here per announcement met quite a number of our business men at the Court House and made explanatory talks as to the modus operandi of getting the interurban railway through Crittenden Co. The gist of their talks, were that we must show them what our resources are, what we have to support the line and to do these things they said a survey was necessary which would cost in Crittenden Co., about $4000.00. Several prominent committees were appointed to see what could be raised and several hundred dollars were promised on the floor to be paid in when the whole amount was secured.

The gentlemen were met at Fredonia by Mayor Cochran and the Editor of the Crittenden Record-Press in an automobile and were entertained by the Commercial Club at the Crittenden Hotel. They left for Paducah on the 4 o'clock train that afternoon.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the doctor to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the doctor did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me."

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANETZKI, 2803 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dedication at Cider, Ky.

Sunday, October, 1, was the day appointed for the dedication of the new church at Cider, Ky. This is the church formerly known as the Bethlehem church. It was organized nearly one hundred years ago and has maintained its existence and its usefulness continuously. Camp meetings were held at this church for many years and all the early ministers of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church have attended these camp meetings and preached at old Bethlehem. Rev. W. J. Darby, D. D., Evansville, Ind., was the last convert at the last camp meeting at Bethlehem. It had an excellent school for pioneer days connected with its earlier history and this school did much in giving a cast of culture to the community, besides preparing many young men and women in the arduous duties of life. It is characteristic of Presbyterians to encourage good schools. It has had for its pastors such men as Milton Byrd, D. D., W. C. Love, W. C. McGhee, J. N. Halsell, M. E. Chapell, J. N. Miller, D. D., McDonauld, J. P. Halsell, J. N. Andre and others of note. The early membership of this church were of sturdy Scotch-Irish descent. Such names as Adamson, Guess, Wilson, Crider, Glenn, Mott, Leach, Black, Dodds, Byrd and others indicate the high cultural standing of this community.

The new church building is erected about a mile from the original church at the little village of Cider on the Illinois Central railroad. It is a nice brick building, located on the prettiest lot in the village, which lot was given to the church by Elder S. J. Crider. It is a neat, comfortable, and well furnished structure. It was built without a dollar of aid from the Board of Church Erection and was dedicated free from all debt without any offerings save the usual Sunday morning offering. It was a day in which rain drenched the earth on each side of Crider and kept some of the attendants solicitous, fearing it might rain there, and yet the splendid breeze and cloudiness only added to the comfort of the day. It was a splendid audience, filling the house completely and yet nearly all seemed comfortable as they were provided with good seats. The music, consisting of both vocal and instrumental, was delightfully rendered and added much to the charms of the day. The auditorium was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The sermon was preached by the Rev. W. J. Dasby, D. D., it was a magnificent presentation of the opportunities and duties of a present day church. The text was a combination of two scriptures, "Who is sufficient for these things?" and "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." The dedicatory services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. N. Andre and the dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. J. F. Price. A splendid dinner was spread, sufficient abundantly to satisfy the most fastidious. Services in the afternoon concluded the services for a glorious day.

Approximately a million and a half bags of sugar, more than half the average Louisiana crop, was today sold to the American Sugar Refining Co., by Charles Godschaux and several other Louisiana planters, who have been in New York for the purpose of putting the deal through, according to private advices received here today. It is estimated that the deal involves about $20,000,000 and is the biggest in the history of the Louisiana sugar industry.

Hunting Season Until Nov. 15.

The hunting season on all sorts of game, including rabbits and squirrels, closed Saturday, Sept. 15th, until the quail season begins on Nov. 15. A few years ago the legislature passed a law prohibiting hunting of any kind during the two months immediately preceding the open seasons for quail. This was done because many people would go out under the pretext of killing rabbits, squirrels, etc., and would also kill quail before the law was out. In order to stop this the law was passed and it is now regarded as prima facie evidence of guilt even to be caught in the field with dog and gun during these two months.

Reports from the country indicate that there will be a big crop of quails this year, the spring and early summer months being unusually dry, thus giving the young birds a chance to grow up and not be drowned out as it is so often the case. Squirrels and rabbits are thick and the coming hunting season promises to be the best in years.

Why People Cough

thing further of the duty of cultivating a kind disposition; but I will tell you a little story of two dogs

"George had a nice little dog that was as gentle as a lamb. He would sit by George's side quietly for an hour at a time. He would never bite anybody or anything.

Thomas's Dog on the contrary was always fighting other dogs, and would sometimes tear them cruelly. He would always fly at the hens and cats in the neighborhood, and on several occasions had been known to seize a cow by the nostrils and throw her. He barked at all the strange men that came along, and would bite them unless someone interfered.

"Now, boys which is the dog you would like to own—George's or Thomas's."

Instantly came the answer in one eager shout: "Thomas!"

Mr. S. M. Jenkins,

Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:—If you will allow me space in the good old Record-

Press, of Crittenden Co., Ky., my dear old home paper I love so well.

This leaves me enjoying life. I want my old Kentucky friends to know the parts of the world I have been in. I will say New York City, Buffalo, N. Y., Cuba, China, New Hampshire, New England, New Mexico, old Mexico, Niagara Falls. I saw a lady go over in a barrel and also Germany and Ireland, and will say I did enjoy myself but when I was coming over Waku islands to Seattle, Wash., I was scared. We were caught in a storm for forty-eight hours and I want to tell all of my Kentucky friends I thought my time had come, but now I am back at home safe and sound.

Now I will close by asking you to look over this bad writing, and give my love to all.

The Salton Sea.

Federal observations are to the effect that the famous Salton Sea will never again disappear. The Colorado broke its banks in 1904 and flooded the basin to a depth of seventy-six feet by 1906, the lake being forty-five miles in length by ten to fifteen miles in width and covering an area of 440 square miles. The basin had been filled numerous times in the past and emptied by evaporation. It is now losing water at the rates of six feet in depth annually, but is also receiving water from New River and from rainfall to the amount of eighteen inches, leaving a net lowering of the water plane of 4.5 feet annually. The report states that in fifteen years the Salton will be reduced to small dimensions. If the Imperial Valley canals and other sources of supply continue to run into the lake, evaporation will never entirely prevail.—Los Angeles Times.

Helpful Hints on Hair Health

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat-band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Marion only at our store—The Rexall Store.—Haynes & Taylor. 16-1t

TOBACCO TIDINGS.

BY R. F. WHEELER.

The Last Appeal By T. M. Dean.

The officers for the Association for next year have been elected. The 1910 crop all sold, the dividend paid, and as buyers have begun to inquire, as to how much we have pooled in Crittenden County, I see no excuse for growers to continue to halt between two opinions.

Will you pool or will you sell to independent buyers?

The question which was the most interested in my welfare was all I had to settle. Every sane man knows that the buyers are in business for their own profit. Every man who knows anything about the situation, knows that the Association was formed to keep these dealers from exacting unreasonable profits from the grower, and that it has been successful.

Still there is a disposition on the part of some to put off pooling. Why is this? I wish to notice some so called reasons.

Some say that we are night riders. If it can be proven that any night riding was ever done by either organization that asks you to pool in Crittenden Co., I will promise to resign my position, and spend all my spare time next year in opposing both of them.

But you say that the independent sell for the most money. How do know? The buyers told you did they? These buyers are nice, clever, honest men, and perhaps think they are telling the truth. But ask him what his purchase last year cost him per hundred pounds, and then get the average price paid to poolers in the Association. You seem to be willing to accept his statement, but if you were in a lawsuit with the man that is paying him to do this talking, your lawyer could not allow him to sit on the jury, for fear that the relation between the two might influence his verdict. Still you accept it without thinking.

He says that he will pay you more than you can get in the Association. Let us see.

It is according to twentieth century business methods, for a firm to pay to one man more for an article than it can get the same article elsewhere, if they can help it. In this case they could help it by buying pooled tobacco. They could get this in large quantities and save the expense of putting men in the field.

Yes but the boys on the outside guy me and say that they got the most, and take no risks, yet I believe the association keeps up the price of tobacco, I believe I will stay out this year.

There is a little Bible story of a very strong man, but a very thoughtless one, who in order to get even with those who taunted him, pulled a whole house down on them. He too perished in the fall. Take warning, if the house falls, you and your neighbors, and every business interest in five great counties will get caught. Heed not his taunts but be careful of your own safety.

The last man says, I believe in pooling, but I will wait awhile and see further. The best farmers go right ahead in the spring preparing for a crop. He don't wait to see if the season is going to be favorable. It might be too late if he waited.

I point with pride to the record of the Stemming District Tobacco Association, and its efficient officers. What it has done for tobacco growers is history. What it can do this year, you should be able to judge by the past. I will say that it has always sold for the top price, is in fine shape to do so this year. So I will make this my last appeal to you this year—Lay aside any doubts you have as to what to do. Let your nobler and finer qualities dictate to you in the interest of yourself, your neighbors, and the welfare of the people of five counties and pool your tobacco with the Stemming District Tobacco Association.

HERE IS THE PLAN.

For twelve months, as local tobacco men will bear me out, I have argued that our tobacco, since the change in the law, which change permits growers of tobacco to sell it in the leaf to dealer, who will resell in the leaf to consumers, that our tobacco, I say, could and should be handled right here at home.

For, be it clearly understood that, thanks to the able and persistent labors of the Hon. A. O. Stanley in the main, tobacco may under the new law, be sold by the producer in the leaf without the payment of the 6 per cent tax, to a dealer who may resell in the leaf to consumers—tax free. And it will only require a few years time to habituate consumers to the use of unadulterated tobacco in the leaf will know the quality of tobacco they are buying, both for smoking and chewing. Whereas trash tobacco, and damaged tobacco adulterated with licorice, glucose, sand and cheap sugar, and the good Lord only knows what other cheap adulterants, is palmed off on consumers—on all of which is exactly a six cents tax per pound.

Right here in Henderson, the metropolis of the Stemming district, is the ideal location for a leaf tobacco company to locate and buy of producers tax free leaf and supply consumers with the same—tax free.

The capitalists of Hickman, more progressive than we, have organized a big company for that very purpose, as will be seen from the article to follow, which I find in the last Louisville Post:

COMPANY TO HANDLE LONG GREEN TOBACCO.

"Charles E. Dexter and F. M. Spiller, of Hickman, are in Louisville arranging to open headquarters for the Kentucky Farmers' Tobacco Company of Hickman, Ky. The company is incorporated with a capital stock of $250,000, divided into shares of $10 each. There has been subscribed by residents of Hickman and West Tennessee a total of $108,000 and much stock has been taken locally by persons familiar with the products of the company.

The company was incorporated in July, and despite the fact that its factory at Hickman has not been completed, it has orders on hand which will keep it busy far into the winter. The plant at Hickman will be ready for business in about three weeks. It will be one of a string of plants which will be located in the various tobacco growing sections from which the company will procure its material. The company will produce eight different grades of burley tobacco at the beginning, and later, it will add other grades of Burley for both smoking and chewing.

The feature of the company's business lies in the fact that its product will be the pure, natural leaf. The tobacco will be presented to the smoking and chewing ing public in exactly the same state as when it was taken from the field. There will be no flavoring, coloring or other adulterating substances used. There will be no machinery in the plant, beyond that used in handling hogheads of tobacco, and such other labor-saving devices.

The plan of the company is to sell four ounces of pure, natural leaf enclosed in pasteboard cartons about sixteen inches long, four inches wide and two inches deep. In the case of smoking tobacco, it will be placed in the box without wrapper, but in the case of chewing tobacco it will be enclosed in waxed paper, which will preserve the tobacco in proper condition over a period of years.

The officers and directors of the company are: C. P. Shumate, cashier of the Peoples' Bank of Hickman; F. S. Moore and A. M. Tyler, attorneys of Hickman; and B. G. Hale, assistant cashier of the Peoples' Bank of Hickman.

Note in the foregoing article this significant sentence:

"The plant will be ready for business in about three weeks.

It will be one of a string of plants which will be located in the various tobacco growing sections from which the company will procure its material."

What, may I ask, is to prevent one of the string of plants from locating in Henderson City—the metropolis of the Stemming district.

Oakland.

One of the greatest revivals that has ever been at Oakland closed Monday night, September 25, 1911. It was conducted by W. J. Nation, assisted by Rev. Latham. We had large crowds, considering the rainy weather and other hindrances.

There is not a doubt but that much good has resulted from this meeting. There were 19 conversions and many were made to realize their lost condition.

It was indeed touching to see strong hearted men reverently bow their heads while Brother Nation prayed that God's convicting power might rest upon them until they were saved from sin.

Brother Nation is a God-fearing man and is one who labors continually for the salvation of souls. May his works always be for the advancement of the Master's cause on earth.

Gauyaquil, Ecuador, Oct. 9.—Four heavy earthquakes early today did serious damage at Riobamba, the capital of Chimborazo province, which lies about eighty-five miles from Gauyaquil. The shocks continued throughout the day, but with diminishing intensity. At the first shock, which occurred early in the morning, a great panic prevailed among the people.

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try It Free

Simple way for any family to retain the good health of all its members

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?"

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels, has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the best claim to attention from constipated people.

Its success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mr. John Graveline of 98 Milwaukee Ave., Detroit, Mich., and Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City. Thousands of others of both sexes have written to Dr. Caldwell telling of gratifying results. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor.

They can be found at Haynes & Taylor's and helpful druggists the world over.

We all Get Used to It.

It costs a newspaper money every time it takes a stand on any question, says an exchange. Almost any citizen beside a newspaper man can do it without interfering his business. If the editor advocates improvements the heads go after him and sometimes stop their paper. If he opposes improvements the progressive sort get after him and call him a back number and a knocker. If he publishes politics the opposition gets into his hair, and if he does not he is charged with being afraid to stand out for his opinion. If he condemns mail order houses, there are some people who ask him to attend to his own business, as they have a right to trade where they please. If he publishes a mail order ad. some of the merchants are after his gore. No country paper can come out squarely without losing money and making enemies, and in the run of a year or more will incur some criticism from everybody. The newspaper that undertakes to please everybody will please nobody; if it is honest and sincere and thoughtful, the public will respect it.

Death of Mrs. Crider.

Mrs. Posie Crider, the wife of Mr. Field Crider died at her home Sept. 1, 1911. She was born Jan. 12, 1869, and lived 47 years, 8 months and 19 days. She was married to Mr. Crider Jan. 9, 1890. They were married and lived happily together for 22 years. She became a step-mother when she married Bro. Crider and all four children seemed to love her as a mother.

Two children were born in the home, Elsie and Nellie, who were left to mourn the loss of their mother. The writer sympathizes with them and their father in this dark hour of grief and despair. Sister Crider leaves an aged father and mother and immediate relatives to mourn her loss.

I was at her home during her sickness and sung and prayed with her. After she realized that her time had come she began to think of her unsafe condition. I read God's word to her and prayed for the redemption of her soul, pleading with her to recognize the Lord. Finally, just before the last had come she pointed heavenward and said it was all well. She was a woman loved by all who knew her and leaves a host of sorrowing friends to mourn for her. They remained with her until the last moment.

Her body was layed away in the Repton cemetery to await the great day. A large concourse of relatives and friends were present to pay the last sad tribute to their departed loved one, Sister Crider.

Nothing was left undone by her loving companion to show his respect as a father and husband.

May the Lord bless the dear motherless girls and protect them from all harm, and may the father give his heart to God that it may be an unbroken family in the sweet heaven of rest, is my prayer. J. A. Wheeler, Their pastor.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Marion Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Marion readers.

G. B. Johnson, 413 Gum St., Marion, Ky., says: "For five years I suffered from kidney complaint, brought on by hard work. Whenever I caught cold, it settled on my kidneys and at such times my suffering was aggravated. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and I was often obliged to arise during the night. There was a dull pain in the small of my back and when I arose in the morning, I felt lame and stiff. I tired easily, was nervous and also had dizzy spells. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention, I procured a box at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store and after I had finished the contents, I was cured. It gives me pleasure to state, that time has proven the cure to be a permanent one. You are at liberty to publish this statement for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. O5-12

Sunday School Lesson.

By J. B. McNeely.

Golden Text.—"Whosoever will, let him take the water of life, freely."

The latter part of Ezekiel is a message of hope, and it was written not far from the year 525 B. C.

They could see the bright star in the night, and the first rays of the morning, and they had a talent for finding the silver lining in the dark cloud. Because they grasped the purpose of God.

1. water; 2. source; 3. progress; 4. the blessings.

Water is an emblem of life, free flowing, pure, healing and invigorating, and He urged the people to draw joyfully from the well of salvation. As three fourths of our earth is water we have no lack of material for illustration. So the word says, "He that cometh to me shall never hunger, he that believeth on me shall never thirst."

2. Source. Ezekiel did not see the waters bubbling out of the mountain side. Let us look at it from this view point, grace and life comes from the sanctuary of God. A symbol of worship and from the altar an emblem of sacrifice based upon the sacrifice and atonement.

The river of life, lamb of God, the fountain filled with blood, drawn from Emmanuel's veins.

3. Progress. The progress of the stream is strikingly typical of the ever increasing march of the power and kingdom of God. It is like the grain of corn planted on the mountain top, and the fruit thereof becomes as the cedars of Lebanon.

So the river flows on with an ever enlarging scope. To use the words of the poet, "Men may come and men may go, but I go on forever." So it is with the stream of life that flows through the nations and the ages. True religion is not on the decline, God's river is not running dry. Whosoever will let him take of the water of life.

4. Blessings. The stream carried only blessings with it. How true this is of a Godly message. On either side of the river were flourishing trees bringing forth fruit. It revived the land and made the desert bloom like the rose. He that is athirst come and take of the water of life freely and accept the gracious gift of God.

Death of Albert Craig.

Dear Mr. Jenkins:—You will please announce through the Record-Press the death of Albert Craig, one of my pupils at Hebron.

During the three years I have been trying to teach I have never had a death, but in the morning when I open school and try in my feeble way to pray, there will be one less to look and listen, but he will be listening to a Voice far sweeter than any man's. The voice of Him who left the ninety and nine to seek the one lost sheep. The One who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Albert Craig was born Aug. 3, 1897 and died on the morning of Oct. 1, 1911.

He had spent most of his life with his aged grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Riden, his mother having died when he was but a baby. His father and sister, who survive him, live at Cairo, but arrived in time to attend the funeral.

He had been sick only a few days; was regular in attendance at school until Monday morning and I learned during the day he had malarial fever. Wednesday

Our institution is examined twice a year by a State Bank Examiner, at our solicitation and expense. All business intrusted to us will receive prompt attention.

J. W. BLUE, President, T. J. YANDELL, Cashier.

I got word that he was worse and went to see him that evening as soon as school was out. I found him very low and went again Thursday morning and found him unimproved. I went again Friday night but he seemed to be resting some better. I went to see him again Saturday afternoon and took some flowers, hoping to find him better. Before I got there I heard he had taken pneumonia and typhoid fever.

When I went into the room he called me to his bed and asked me to take him home, and Sunday morning at 1:15 he passed to that home—the home eternal in the Heavens.

Albert professed faith in Christ during the meeting here in August and joined the church at Hebron. He seemed perfectly willing to go and only a few minutes before he died sang a part of that glorious old song, "I'm going home to glory in the old time way," and said, "I'm going home, I have only a few more steps to go."

You know, Mr. Jenkins, I told you once that my pupils were all good, but Albert was an exceptionally good one. He was always quiet and pleasant both in the school room and on the playground. He was loved by all he knew but we shall miss him at school more than anyone else, outside of his own family.

The funeral services were held at Hebron his morning by Bro. Ura Terry, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Dunn Springs. The services were very impressive and the white casket was covered with beautiful flowers.

The children and I wish to express our heartfelt sympathy for his loved ones in this sad hour. Thanking you very sincerely for a paper that always listens to our joys and sorrows.

I am as ever, most sincerely,
Hollis C. Franklin,

Letter From Sikeston, Mo.

Sikeston, Mo., Oct. 8, 1911.

R. F. D. No. 2, box 11.

Mr. Editor, If you will allow me space in your valuable paper for my short letter, I will try and tell something about Sikeston and its surroundings. Sikeston is the wealthiest little town in southeast Missouri and its county (Scott) is the richest farming land in the state although crops are short this year on account of the dry weather.

Much rain is needed for fall crops. Sowing wheat is the order of the day, and corn will soon be ready to shuck and about half a crop is expected.

I am always anxious for Friday to roll around to get your good paper, for it seems like getting a letter from home. If this does not find its way to the waste basket, I will call again, wishing the Record-Press and its many readers, a success.

Yours Truly,
GEO. TURLEY.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Sold by Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Memorial Windows.

Two of the most beautiful memorial windows to be put into the new church will be, one for Mrs. Maria F. Wilson, the mother of Mesdames H. K. Woods, J. W. Bue and R. L. Orme who will have one put in memory their mother, for her loyalty to the Methodist church in its infancy, as well as for their affectionate remembrance of her. The other will be put in by the congregation in memory of John H. Hawkins, who was one of the pioneer Methodists of this city and one of the staunch supporters of the struggling church when it was founded. He was also one of the most liberal contributors to the building fund when the first church was erected here 40 yrs. ago.

THE STORY OF TRIPOLI

An Interesting Narrative of the City Under Turkish Rule.

The city of Tripoli is clean and well built and pleasing in aspect. It is surrounded by a wall and its many Moslem domes and minarets mark it as Eastern and Mohammedan. It manufactures carpets and cloths and does a caravan trade of considerable importance over the desert of Sahara.

Tripoli, the Turkish "vilayet" or province, has a coast line of 700 miles on the Mediterranean almost unbroken by headlands or bays save at the harbor of Tripoli. A little explored and thinly inhabited country divided between mountain and desert interspersed with fertile valleys, interior Tripoli has been the home of bedouin Arabs and other wild tribes nominally under Turkish rule, but practically independent, but some progress has been made in cattle breeding and the cultivation of olives, figs, almonds, cotton, wheat, Indian corn, lemons, watermelons, tobacco, dates and silk in the coast region. A fair trade is driven with Soudan. European goods go south across the desert and ivory, ostrich feathers and other Central African products come north. The agricultural and mineral resources of the country are probably susceptible of development that would make Tripoli a valuable possession to any European Power.

Tripoli is under the rule of Turkey, whose Sultan appoints the Governor, who in turn appoints the beys or pashas, who rule the provinces. Revenues are raised in the old-fashioned way by collecting tribute from the Arabs, a tax upon merchants and upon land and by export and import duties. The official language is Arabic and the inhabitants, probably numbering no more than 1,000,000, are nomadic Arabs or "bedouins" and urban and agricultural Moors with the exception of a few thousand Jews and Christians. The State religion is Mohammedan and in both city and country the pious Moslems are seen at any time of the day, and especially at sunset, kneeling at prayer with their faces toward Mecca.

Tripoli belonged successively to Carthage, Numidia and Rome. It subsequently passed into the hands of the Vandals, who reached the Mediterranean through the Iberian Peninsula, and the Greeks. The Arabs captured it in 644, when the Moslems were moving westward to take Spain and cross the Pyrenees in an effort to establish their empire on the shores of the North Sea. In 1510, eighteen years after the backbone of Mohammedanism was broken in Spain by the capture of Granada by Ferdinand and Isabella, and the expulsion of Boabdil from the Alhambra, Tripoli was taken by Ferdinand, and the Catholic order of the Knights of St. John held it from 1530 to 1551, when it became a Turkish province. Turkey allowed it to lie fallow and run amuck for three centuries, and it was the stronghold of ferocious Barbary pirates till the second quarter of the Nineteenth century when the Turks reasserted their authority and reduced it to the condition of a "velayet."

As one of the so-called Barbary States Tripoli became involved with European nations and with the United States as a result of the practice of piracy. The U. States, in the Eighteenth century paid tributes to the Barbary States to secure immunity from the Barbary pirates, and in 1796 was glad to conclude peace under a treaty without ransom.

The treaty was broken and in 1801 the Barbary Pirates had the effrontery to demand of this country a tribute of $25,000 annually. On being refused they declared war. An American squadron under Commodore Dale blockaded Tripoli, and three years afterward Commodore Preble bombarded the port five times while Gen. Eaton captured the city of Derme, in the province of Barca. In 1805 the Pasha, representing the banded pirates, who called themselves the Government, signed a treaty of peace and in 1815 Admiral Decatur forced him to release all ships and prisoners of whatever nation and pay numerous indemnities. Since 1835 Turkey has kept order in Tripoli.

Morocco, Fez, Algeria, Tunis and Tripoli comprise the Barbary States, a strip of North Africa from 140 to 500 miles wide lying between the Mediterranean and the Sahara. While the Barbary States have been referred to as barren they are really pretty well supplied with fertile soil and the nature of their climate is such that they will produce an abundance of fruit of both tropical and temperate zones at points just across the Mediterranean from European markets.

Coming Again Some Time.

Probably the cleverest and most interesting entertainment ever given for the money in Marion, was the Baby Show, under the management of Goodrich & McGary, which closed an eleven nights' engagement at the opera house last week.

From the opening night the seating capacity of the house was taxed to the utmost, and on some nights many people were turned away. No other show has ever been greeted with such enthusiasm by the Marion public and so far as we know, there is no other show of this kind on the road. The main feature of the show, is showing on the big curtain, pictures of all the small children of the town as well as many of the grown ups, and lots of local scenes of interest.

It seems that local pictures strike a more popular chord than any others, and Mr. Goodrich, the photographer, certainly understands the art of getting good ones. Besides the home pictures, the motion pictures shown were of the very best quality and very interesting subjects.

The many contests, taken part in, by the boys and girls, were very amusing and enjoyed by all. Altogether, a show of this character is bound to make good any where and we predict continued success for this company.
